B. Practical examples of sharing the Gospel

The Reality of Evangelism: Being versus Doing

- 1. Personal conversations and shared experiences
- 2. Actions often speak louder than words
- 3. Technology and social media

1. Personal conversations and shared experiences can be impactful platforms for sharing our faith. A middle-aged woman, Jen took advantage of such a moment during a group hiking trip. When her friend, Laura, started expressing her feelings of loneliness and worthlessness, Jen gently shared her experiences of solace and self-worth in her relationship with Christ. She spoke of how understanding God's unconditional love for her wholly transformed her perspective on self-worth. This conversation sparked Laura's interest in Christianity, leading to ongoing discussions about faith and, eventually, Laura's decision to follow Christ.

2. Actions often speak louder than words, and demonstrating the love of Christ through service is a powerful form of evangelism. A college student, Tom exemplified this when he regularly volunteered at a local homeless shelter. His consistent display of kindness and compassion attracted the curiosity of Mike, a homeless man who frequented the shelter. When Mike asked Tom about the motivation behind his selfless service, Tom was able to share his faith, explaining that it was the love of Christ that inspired him to serve others. This interaction prompted Mike to explore Christianity and ultimately accept Christ.

3. Technology and social media can also be instrumental in sharing our faith. A graphic designer, Alice regularly shared her faith by creating and posting inspiring illustrations of Bible verses on her Instagram account. One day, she received a message from a follower named Sarah, who was going through a difficult time and was comforted by Alice's posts. This opened up a dialogue about faith and the hope found in Christ, culminating in Sarah's decision to be baptized into Christ.

C. Simple exercises for articulating the Gospel clearly

The Reality of Evangelism: Being versus Doing

- Craft Your Testimony
- Personal Bible Study
- Scripture Memory

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

1. Exercise: Craft Your Testimony - One of the most personal and powerful ways to share the Gospel is through your testimony. Spend some time reflecting on your journey to Christ. Think about your life before you accepted Christ, the circumstances leading up to your decision, how you accepted Christ, and the changes you have experienced since that moment. Now, try to condense this into a three-minute story. Practice verbalizing this concise version of your testimony until it flows naturally. This exercise will help you to share your faith journey in a relatable way.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

2. Exercise: Personal Bible Study - This classic evangelism tool uses reproduced materials to guide someone through learning Bible scripture. Those scriptures should lead someone to decide for or against Jesus and His invitation to salvation. The material lays out God's plan of salvation through a Messiah and mankind's response. Ultimately any effort at evangelism must consult the Bible, and any individual must respond to the saving work and life of Jesus Christ.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

3. Exercise: Scripture Memory - Familiarize yourself with critical scriptures that explain the Gospel message. Verses like Romans 3:23, Romans 6:23, John 3:16, Ephesians 2:8-9, and Romans 10:9-10 outline the problem of sin, God's solution through Christ, and our response to God's gift. By committing these verses to memory, you can accurately and confidently explain the Gospel using the Bible's words. Regularly review these scriptures and practice weaving them coherently into your conversations about the Gospel.
